a) Event registration

When you register for this event, we collect the following mandatory data:

- Salutation, name, first name
- Address
- Affiliation
- Payment information, depending on the selected method of payment (e.g. credit cards, bank account information), and
- E-mail address.

The purpose of processing the mandatory data is to identify you as event participant, to check the provided data for plausibility, to reserve a spot for your participation and to establish a contractual relationship with you.

We also require your data in order to prepare user accounts for the virtual event platform to supply you with event information before, during, and after the event. This is done to ensure optimal participation for you and to allow us to plan the event and ensure that it goes smoothly.

We need your payment information to process the participation fee.

Further information can be provided voluntarily. Voluntary data allow us to plan and conduct the event in accordance with participants' interests.

We process data at your request and for the purposes described by Art. 6 (1) lit. b GDPR to fulfill the obligations of the participation agreement and to execute precontractual provisions.

We will use your e-mail address to inform you about similar events organized by us in the future only if you have expressly consented to this use of your e-mail address or if we have informed you thereof separately when collecting your e-mail address and have pointed out your right to object to this use at any time. To the extent that this use is not based on consent, the processing takes place on the basis of Art. 6 (1) lit. f GDPR. We have a legitimate interest in notifying our participants of other events also organized by us.

This event being an event for which a fee is charged, the personal data we collect for the event will, in principle, be stored until the end of the standard limitation period of three years after the end of the year in which the event was held, and the data will be erased after that. Storage beyond this period stated takes place only if and to the extent that:

- we are obligated to store the data for a longer period pursuant to Art. 6 (1) lit. c GDPR based on statutory obligations of storage and documentation (especially Sec. 147 of the German Fiscal Code (AO)). In this case, the data are stored only to the extent required by the retention obligation.
- you have consented to storage beyond that pursuant to Art. 6 (1) lit. a GDPR.
- we use your e-mail address, subject to the requirements set out in Sec. 7 (3) of the German Act Against Unfair Competition (UWG), to inform you of future events by e-mail. In this case, we store your e-mail address and your first and last names until you object to processing for this purpose.

To accept event registrations from our online visitors, we have commissioned the service provider New Work SE, Dammtorstrasse 30, 20354 Hamburg, Germany, who operates the XING Events website. The purpose of working with the service provider is the professional management of online registrations. This service requires storing the collected data on the servers of New Work SE in Ireland. Please also refer to the data protection information of XING Events GmbH (accessible at <https://privacy.xing.com/en/privacy-policy>) that explains which data are already collected and processed as soon as you visit the event website at XING Events.

Moreover, as a research institution, we are subject to various requirements pursuant to foreign trade regulations (among them Council Regulation (EC) No 2580/2001). In order to properly comply with these statutory requirements, we use your first and last names along with your address and date of birth in order, among other things, to carry out sanction list screening. The processing is done pursuant to Art. 6 (1) lit. f GDPR. We have a legitimate interest in processing these data in this respect since otherwise, as the controller, we may be threatened with legal consequences.

b) Participation in an online event

Given that the event in which you will participate will not be held on-site, but rather online (e.g., via video- and/or audioconference), please note also the following:

To conduct the online event we use a technical service provider as processor, which processes the data according to our instructions.

In connection with your participation in the online event the following data may be collected:

- Access data: e.g., an individualized link through which you dial into the online event
- Content data: Contents of your contributions, e.g., in chats or in votes or files released by you. Image or sound recordings of you will be made only if and to the extent that you have separately consented to this in advance (Art. 6 (1) lit. a GDPR). The purpose as well as your consent to recording will be documented within the recording.
- Profile data: Data about yourself that you have voluntarily released in connection with the online event; for example, your name or your profile photo. Profile data are used for personalization, for tailoring contents to the interests of the public and for a more personal style of communication.
- Dial-in data: This includes, for example, the date and time of your dial-in to the conference and the time you leave it.
- Support /Feedback data: Information in connection with the handling of any troubleshooting tickets or feedback.

Our legitimate interests are the provision of a secure and error-free service for online events.

Unless otherwise specified, the processing of the data is done for the technical and content-related execution of the online event, i.e., for the performance of the contract (Art. 6 (1) lit. b GDPR) and we delete the data after 90 days at the latest.

During the conference, the following information may be visible to other participants who are not the organizer: Your name, profile photo and your chat contributions; in break-out sessions and 1:1 video chats that you can enter at your own discretion, the live video transmitted by your camera or webcam.

We do not record whether you participated attentively in the event (e.g., whether you opened windows other than that of the online event, during the event).

Parts of this online event will take place using the “Microsoft Teams” service. For these parts, the following also holds true:

The technical service provider is Microsoft Ireland Operations Ltd. in Dublin, Ireland (Microsoft), which works for us as a processor. Data storage takes place in the Microsoft Cloud, specifically in computing centers in the European geographic space. It is not anticipated to transmit personal data to a third country for reasons related to the operation of Microsoft Teams. Should you dial in from a third country, the processing ordered by us will be done using European computer centers in this case as well.

In providing the service Microsoft captures certain diagnostic and service data and uses these on its own authority for its own purposes. To the extent that Microsoft processes personal data in connection with its own legitimate business processes, Microsoft is the independent controller within the meaning of the GDPR for such processing. Particulars concerning the processing by Microsoft may be found at <https://docs.microsoft.com/de-de/microsoftteams/teams-privacy>.

You may also participate in an online event based on Microsoft Teams even without your own Microsoft user account. If you do use your own Microsoft user account to participate, then additional data pursuant to the provisions of your Microsoft user account may be processed.

In the context of the event, you have the option to register to receive our regular newsletter. You can do this either online when registering for the event or directly at the event itself by entering your e-mail address in a form intended for this purpose.

Once you have subscribed, you will receive a registration notification by e-mail, which you need to confirm to receive the newsletter (so-called double opt-in). Your e-mail response serves as confirmation that you are in fact the person who initiated the subscription.

We will send you the newsletter exclusively if you have given your express consent pursuant to Art. 6 (1) lit. a GDPR.

You may unsubscribe at any time, e.g. via a link at the end of each newsletter. Alternatively, you may also unsubscribe by e-mail via datenschutz@zv.fraunhofer.de.
